
Final split: rejected candidate returns to training, creating a train–test distance of 2.

Connected-component assignment keeps all three peptides in one partition.